Courtney Kenny Award 2021

Preliminary Round Risk Assessment

Taggs Yard, Barnes.

The following rooms only will be available, due to Covid restrictions.

The entrance hall, studio, toilet, kitchen.

The Co-ordinator, judges and chairman will be in attendance all day and will wear masks.

All singers and pianists need to arrive wearing masks. These may be removed on entering the studio.

The keyboard of the piano will be sanitised between each recital. It is known that singing has a slightly higher risk of spreading COVID-19 through droplets and aerosol movement. Accordingly, there will be a gap of five minutes between each recital and there will be sufficient ventilation.

The windows will be open in the studio and the kitchen area for ventilation.

There will be no warm up facilities but light singing is possible in the garden.

All performers should bring their own refreshments, including water. They should also bring their own hand sanitiser but there will be some provided at Taggs Yard.

A disinfectant spray will be available in the toilet. This is the only place to change.

Social distancing should be practiced at all times.

Taggs Yard is a private home and we ask that you respect the restricted access that is necessary this year.

Sarah Leonard – Chairman of the AESS